Voted Best Videographer – 2006, 2007 & 2008 on Atlantabridal.com

Winner Atlanta Hotlist 2008 Best Videographer

The goal of CMV Productions is to tell the story of your special day. With over 14 years of professional broadcast experience (11 years at CNN Atlanta) we have the knowledge and experience to make your wedding video a memorable and elegant movie that you will want to watch time and time again.

CMV Productions takes great pride in being able to meet the needs of every wedding budget. Each of our video packages is filmed and edited with the same care and attention. Every sequence in our movies could stand alone, but when combined together they tell the perfect story of your wedding day.

The Sequences

The Introduction

We begin your video with photographs of you from birth through your dating years. The pictures are set in motion and each dissolves into the next. You may pick a song for this sequence to make your video unique.

The “Love Story” Interviews are included with Package Three. The “Love Story” may be added to package one for an additional fee of $300 and to package two for an additional fee of $200.

Getting Ready

The Getting Ready segment is the first sequence of the wedding day. This section establishes the mood of the day and captures your pre-wedding activities. The Getting Ready sequence will typically include exterior shots of your ceremony site, shots of the bride and groom arriving, the pre-wedding photo session and your last minute preparations. As in the Introduction, you may pick a song special to you for this sequence.

Ceremony

We will capture your ceremony with two cameras. Our experience allows us to quickly evaluate each location and select camera placement that will produce the best coverage with minimal movement and no disruption during your ceremony.

To capture clear audio we use several microphones including a wireless lavalier microphone that the groom wears and other wireless microphones placed in various locations at the ceremony site. This not only enables us to clearly hear the bride and groom saying their vows it also let's us record the music, readings, and room noise that might otherwise be missed.

Photo Shoot

The Photo Shoot sequence provides the perfect transition between your ceremony and the reception. While your photographer takes all your pictures we go ‘behind the scenes’ and capture the moments you may be missing. In the Photo Shoot sequence we use interesting camera angles and slow motion to capture the story of your wedding day. Again, you may pick a song special to you for this sequence.

The Reception

This sequence will include coverage of all the traditional and non-traditional events at your reception. Coverage may include but is not limited to events such as: the bride & grooms' entrance, the first dance; the toasts; cutting the cake; and the throwing of the bouquet. Our experience allows us to cover all the important events without being disruptive to you or your guests. We use only a small 10 watt light on the cameras when necessary so nobody is distracted by bright lights. The Bonus Sequence will include much of the dancing not included in the reception sequence.

Video Interviews

The Video Interviews sequence offers your wedding party a chance to help tell your story. A second camera man at your reception will set up a camera and microphone away from the main action of the celebrations. Unlike most wedding videos you may have seen your wedding party will have the option to come in, sit down, and get comfortable in front of the camera. We will ask a few simple questions to lead your wedding party members in the right direction and get more than just a "Congratulations... we love you." The interviews will be included in the reception sequence of your video. In addition to capturing the video greetings the second camera man will be able to capture a second angle of all the important moments at your reception.

Video Greetings

The Video Greetings sequence offers your guests a chance to leave you a video message at your reception. A second camera man at your reception will set up a camera and microphone away from the main action of the celebrations. Unlike most wedding videos you may have seen your guests have the option to come in, sit down, and get comfortable in front of the camera and leave their message. The messages will be added as a separate chapter on your wedding movie.

The Highlights

The Highlights sequence is one you will be sure to watch over and over again when you don't have time to watch the entire video. We take the most memorable footage of the day set to music of your choice. Each scene dissolves into the next and slow motion adds extra emotion to this recap of your special day. Up to ten copies of this sequence are produced for you to give to family and friends courtesy of CMV Productions.

The Honeymoon & Credits

To close each video we ask the bride & groom to send us up to 30 photographs from their honeymoon. We put together a photomontage of the pictures set to the music of your choice and it's followed by the credits which scroll across the screen with the names of those who worked hard to make the day special.
